Domestic	848,784	709,363	(16.4)	9,075,046	7,350,510	(19.0)

OMA Total	976,564	812,325	(16.8)	10,920,094	8,724,827	(20.1)

* Terminal passengers: includes passengers on the three types of aviation (commercial, charter, and general aviation), and excludes passengers in transit.

Domestic traffic decreased principally because of the suspension of Aviacsa (suspended since July 6, 2009) and the departure from the markets of Alma and Aladia. The Monterrey, Acapulco, and Ciudad Juárez airports had the largest traffic reductions. Positive factors included the performance of VivaAerobus and Aeromar and the opening of the Chihuahua-Torreón-Guadalajara and Monterrey-Querétaro routes by Mexicana Link. The Culiacán, Durango, and Mazatlán airports reported domestic traffic growth of 10.0%, 4.7%, and 3.1%, respectively.

International traffic decreased principally because of the cancellation of international routes by Mexicana and Aeroméxico; the suspension of Aviacsa; the departure of Aladia; and a reduction in passengers on several of the international carriers. Monterrey, Mazatlán, and Chihuahua were the most affected. International traffic at Zacatecas increased 24.9% as a result of growth on traffic on the Chicago and Oakland routes.

The total number of flight operations (takeoffs and landings) in September 2009 decreased 10.9% as compared to September 2008.
